Here you have it straight. While good words cost nothing and are worth much, please bear in mind that hot air is abundant and is worth nothing.

Andy Carnegie emphatically denies that one of his hero medals will go to Mrs. Chadwick for heroic conduct on the great field of hysterical finance.

We know men who are always too busy to make friends, and then there are others who are too lazy to make enemies. Both kinds need reformation.

The sum of nearly $50,000,000 is expended yearly on the game of golf. England has 879 clubs; United States has 789; Scotland 632. There are 3,000 golf links in the world.

This is merely a tentative explanation: Perhaps it is for fear that she may some day be caught in a cyclone that induces woman to so beautifully decorate that portion of her wardrobe that no one ever sees.

The largest depot in the world is being built in New York by the New York Central. It will cost $50,000,000 and occupy nineteen city blocks. Suburban trains will enter and leave at a lower level than through trains.

Hereafter, according to a recent ruling, guessing contests will be placed under the ban the same as lottery schemes, and it will be unlawful for any matter pertaining to them to be sent through the mails.

If you want trade ask for it. Tell people what you have to sell, and give them reasons why they should buy from you rather than from the "other fellow." The most effective and far-reaching method of asking for trade is by advertising.

Cheese-crackers are made by taking long, salted crackers, spreading them thickly with cheese (not the white, but the ordinary yellow cream cheese), and laying one on top of the other, sandwich fashion. Then set them in the oven for a few minutes, and the outside edges will be delicately browned, while the cheese will be cooked just enough to glue the two crackers together.

Train yourself to keep your troubles to yourself. Don't pour them out upon acquaintances or strangers. It isn't their fault if you have troubles, and they don't want to hear of yours because they have so many of their own. And, besides, here is a point to consider, if you insist on telling other people your grievances they will at length come to dislike and shun you, because thereby you prevent them from telling their troubles.

The decision of the Treasury Department that a frog is a bird seems to have been investigated by a Pennsylvania judge who has decided that a bird is not an animal. We wish the judge had gone into the matter a little further and decided just what a bird is, for Secretary Shaw evidently still believes a frog is a bird and therefore a bird must be very nearly a frog—a kind of jumping bird with the feathers off. The trouble with Shaw is that while consorting with the Washington diplomats he has been fed on frogs' legs and thought he was eating quail.

FROM THE LADDER'S TOP.

Hon. George W. Wilson, editor-in-chief of The Florida Times-Union, represented his paper at the inauguration of the new governor. Mr. Wilson gave to the State an excellent report, sparkling in originality and emphasizing the most interesting features which occurred in connection with this great State function. But there is one paragraph which to the press appears of note. It is this:

"It would seem to any experienced representative of the press that the local committee on arrangements had planned to bring upon the Broward administration the hostility of the newspapers, for the reason that all the usual courtesies extended to the press were entirely overlooked, and it is charitable to say, perhaps through inexperience in such matters. The slight was, however, just as effective as though deliberately made. Representatives of the press gathered up their dignity and followed the procession to the capital grounds and stood on the outside, no provision having been made for them, as is the custom in every capital in the world. Perhaps Tallahassee, in its isolation, may need newspaper help in the future."

It is perhaps a singular coincidence that the greatest paper in the State through its editor-in-chief complains for the slight the press received by the committee which arranged for the greatest function known to the civic or political history of the State for a period of four years. At the inauguration there was no provision for the press. Whoever had charge of the arrangements might not have intended a slight. The slight might have been the result of a dwarfed and irresponsible quality of gray matter usually carried in the head, rather than to a desire on the part of the mental midget to have offered a slight to the greatest agency for the progress, development and stay of the State.

But there was a slight, whether intended or not. The Sun is really sorry that the Hon. George W. Wilson should have been snubbed at the State capital upon an occasion of this kind. The genial and affable, whole-souled and kind-hearted editor-in-chief of the greatest paper in the State deserved better treatment for himself, and certainly the paper which he represented ought to have been looked after more kindly.

After all, it is perhaps a good thing that if any representative of the press was snubbed that it was the representative of the greatest daily in the State. It may result in a campaign on the part of some of them to give the little fellows scattered throughout Florida a better show in the future. Who knows but that it may eventually lead to giving to the press of the State that which is due not only on occasions where we inaugurate a governor with a deal of foolish pomp and splendor, through unnecessary showing of the leaders of Florida's four hundred in the room, but at all great and little events in the State.

The Sun, however, extends its sincere sympathy to George. It was evidently the one sad moment of his life. Imagine a genial person like George Wilson, a fellow who is always looking after his neighbor and a man who is the equal if not the superior in everything to anybody who figured in that inauguration from the governor down, being snubbed in Tallahassee, the city which has boasted of its hospitality, and snubbed because a mental midget at the capital either willed it or was unintentionally responsible. It is a travesty on all social ethics, a disgrace to Tallahassee and a blot upon the State.

But how often has the editor-in-chief of the greatest paper in the State sent one of his reporters out to cover a social or State function, and how often has that representative worked faithfully to the end that his paper might be served with zeal, forgetting the slights which he could not resent and

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

thinking of nothing but the duty he owed to his paper. Doubtless this has occurred a hundred times within the past few months. It is hoped that The Times-Union will give us something refreshing along this line at least once each month. It is a good lesson.

You often find that the boy who was invariably at the head of his class in school is now keeping a set of books for the fellow who was always in the tail.

TRICKS OF THIEVES.

Clever Schemes That Aid in the Perpetration of Crime.

"Thieves resort to clever methods in order to get away with the goods," said an old police officer, "and I am firmly convinced that if the criminals of the world would devote the same amount of time, talent and patience to thinking out uplifting and advantageous schemes for humankind they would in a short while revolutionize the world in many useful ways. But somehow the mind of the criminal seems to be sharper, if I may say it, and brighter and quicker than the mind of the honest man. The fact may be explained in any number of ways. In the first place, the criminal has nothing to do but think out some plan of getting something that doesn't belong to him. That is his special business. Quite naturally the plan he works out under those circumstances will often startle even the oldest men in the police departments of the country. Who would have thought of the wire saw, a thing so small that it can be slipped in between the layers of the shoe sole, but the criminal who found in it a ready, convenient and unfailing means of escape? He is constantly thinking up some new scheme. Here we find a man and woman in a jewelry store. The woman carries a parrot with her. The bird suddenly gets away and begins to flutter around in the store. The jeweler is afraid the parrot will break something. He tries to catch it and succeeds after a short while. A small purchase is made. The man and the woman leave. Result, several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry gone. It was stolen during the excitement over the bird. Good scheme, eh? Yet it is but one out of a million worked by the clever degenerates of the world."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.
